How to Get to Andorra

By bus

Dozens of regular international bus lines connect the Principality of Andorra with cities across Spain (Barcelona, Madrid...), France (Toulouse...) and even Portugal.

By train

Although there is no direct train to Andorra, you can take a train to Barcelona, Lleida, Toulouse or l'Hospitalet. These cities provide direct bus services to Andorra.

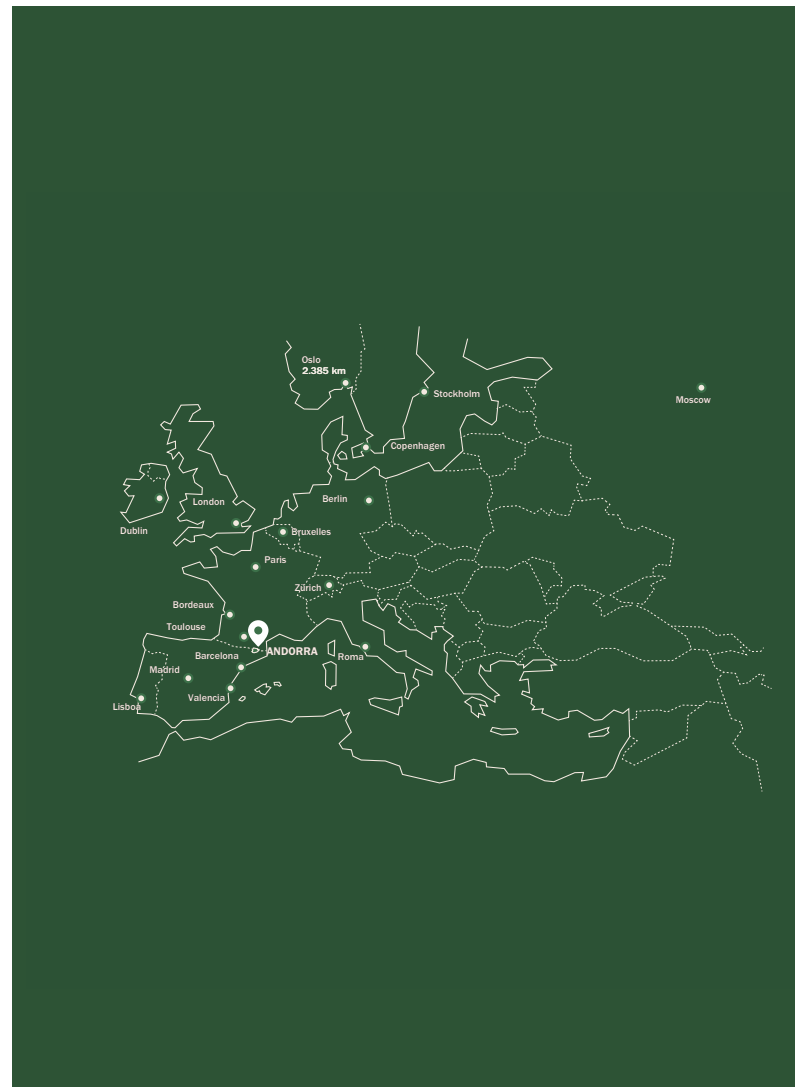

By car

Due to Andorra's unique location in the heart of the Pyrenees, all options for crossing the border into Andorran territory require traveling by road.

By plane

Andorra does not have an airport due to its altitude. The nearest airport is located in Alt Urgell, with additional options available in Barcelona and Toulouse.
